

Environmental Consequences

QUIZ (PART 2, NATURAL RESOURCE EXTRACTION)

Question 1

Electronic components and devices use more gold than all other markets except jewelry.

- a. True
- b. False

Question 2

Gold is an attractive material for use in electronics because:

- a. Gold is rigid and doesn't break.
- b. Gold has low thermal conductivity so that heat does not spread to surrounding circuits.
- c. Gold does not corrode easily.
- d. Gold has low contact conductivity.
- e. All of the above

Question 3

The following are conflict minerals:

- a. Tin
- b. Silver
- c. Platinum
- d. All of the above

Question 4

Mining materials in conflict-ridden areas is often accompanied by:

- a. Human rights violations
- b. Military presence
- c. Disregard for contaminating local water supplies
- d. All of the above

Environmental Consequences

Question 5

In the United States, public companies are required to disclose whether or not they are using minerals from conflict areas in the world because of the:

- a. Clean Water Act
- b. Dodd-Frank Act
- c. Clean Air Act